I regret that it has taken so long for me to respond to your letter of several weeks ago. I found the letter well balanced and thought provoking. I believe most of your comments are valid, and I know that all of your remarks are honest ones. I appreciate the constructive spirit in which they were written, and the time and effort which went into the letter. [REDACTED]

Your EEO case is a matter of personal interest to me. I understand that the investigation of your complaint has been completed and that the review should be ready in a matter of days. I'll see that you are kept informed on the progress of the case. [REDACTED]
